ITALY VICTORIOUS IN ECONOMIC WAR LED BY ENGLAND

Rome, Nov. 16-(AP)-Italy emerged as the final victor today in the economic war England led against her during the Ethiopian campaign in 1935.

Britain formally recognized Italy as sovereign over Ethiopia when the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador, presented to Foreign Minister County Galeazzo Ciano new credentials accrediting him to King Vittorio Emanuele as King of Italy and Emperor of L. Hamilton, cashier. Prentice H.

This was part of the process of bringing into effect the Anglo- was indicted on the same charge. The economic protest did not deter Italy from taking Ethiopia but it did bring resentment against Britain, now ended by the British-Italian accord, and to a lesser degree against France.

Soviet Russia and the United States are the only big powers who have not yet recognized the Ethiopian conquest. The United States did not participate in the economic boycott. Russia, as a Communist government, is not likely to give formal recognition to the fascist victory.

France has accredited an ambassador to Italy as the new empire, but has not yet reached a friendship understanding although negotiations are proceeding.

There was a long ash on his cigar and he began to hunt for a place to deposit it as if it were a stick of dynamite.

It was obvious that Adam had forgotten all about me. He spoke to Wheeler tersely and with some heat, employing pungent language to describe exactly what was wrong with Wheeler and what to Wheeler heard him out with a suffused countenance in which dumb gratitude struggled with resentment and shame. They parted, if not amicably, at least on terms of better understanding, while I wondered, in a kind of daze, how much of this I was supposed to put in my notes.

RUMANIANS HOPE FOR REUNION OF KING AND QUEEN

People Hope Prince May Be the Medium For Settlement

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer.

Bucharest, Nov. 16.-Hope has taken root among the people of Rumania that 17-year-old Crown Prince Mihai may prove to be a Mrs. Earl James...... 1.00 George W. Knox...... 1.00 medium to reunite King Carol and Queen Helen, who were divorced in 1928.

Partly the wish is father to the thought, since the general public earnestly desires to see the royal family once more together, with their queen on the throne. Still, the idea has reasonable ground in that the big thing in Mihai's life now is to get his mother back home, for he loves both his parents dearly and the poor lad is having a rather tough time, with his heartstrings being pulled in two directions.

Good Political Move.

A reunion of the royal couple would be a good move politically. Not only do the people as a whole want the queen back, but the untored peasant folk don't underand the divorce at all and are troubled by it. Under their simple code of life, man and wife stick together, no matter what happens.

Most of Time With Father.

Mihai naturally spends most of this time with his father, since the heir to a throne must undergo the special and intensive training that precedes kingship. The prince has a full month with his mother in the summer, however, this representing his "vacation"from official duties and schooling. That's one of his bright spots, for not only does he see his mother but he gets rid of the court formalities which irk him.

The king is trying to make his son's training as agreeable as possible, knowing from personal experience how great is the strain on a boy who is heir to a throne.

Full happiness, however, will Dr. R. J. Graff come to Mihai only when his parnts are reunited. The prince is o devoted to him, that he may D. E. indeed have sufficient influence with them to bridge the matrimonial difficulties

ROOSEVELT LOOKS TO OTHER NATIONS IN DEFENSE PLANS

Washington, Nov. 16-(AP) -President Roosevelt has supplied a cue for discussions at next month's Pan-American conference by viewing defense of the Western Hemisphere as a mutual proposition among its 21 republics and Canada.

He told his press conference yesterday that he would ask congress to increase the nation's air forces sufficiently to cope with any foreign aggression against either of the American continents.

But the administration, he emphasized, does not contemplate that the United States should guard the new world alone. National defense, he added, has become a matter of continental defense, and mutual solidarity is

This solidarity is more definite, Roosevelt continued, than at any time since the Latin republics were struggling for their indeago.

The president's remarks are certain to be an important topic among delegates from the American republics at their regular meeting in Lima, Peru, beginning Dec. 9. In fact, Latin American diplomatic cricles here consider mutual defense the principal business of the conference—at least behind the scenes.

Roosevelt did not give out definite figures in his exposition of aims involved in the rearmament program, but his remarks gave support to persistent reports that he would propose an Army Air Corps of from 7,000 to 10,000 war planes. This would form one of the world's strongest aerial ar-

TWO GOVERNORS

PLEDGE TO SET

Washington, Nov. 16-(AP)-Two governors-elect, talking about spending less instead of more, have brought up a subject that already is troubling the Roosevelt administration and will plague Congress and the states for many months.

Gov, Herbert H. Lehman said at Albany, N. Y., "this is no time to spend money on frivolities." Arthur H. James disclosed at Harrisburg, Pa. ,his inauguration would be as "inexpensive as possible." The one was a Democrat, the other a Republican. Lehman is about to start on his fourth term, James on his first.

Each of them has just finished long weeks of campaigning during which they talked with men and women of every degree in two of the most powerful states of the State governments now are spending more than $3,600,000,000 more than they were spending in 1932. The counties, cities, towns, villages, school and levee districts and other local governmental agencies spend about twice as much as the states.

LEGISLATIVE BODY TO STUDY STATE'S NEW OIL INDUSTRY

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16-(AP) -A study of Illinois' oil industry for which the new State Legislative Council may propose regulation of production was completed today by the council's research

Since then there has been no indication if or how the subject is to be revived when the assembly meets in January.

Although the state now is ranked seventh among oil producing states, compared to 14th place two years ago, the report said the statutes contain only seven measures covering development of the two natural resourc-

The report, drawn by Dr. C. M Kneier, research director, said Illinois produced 4,445,000 barrels of oil in 1936 while the estimated output for this year was 21,500,000 barrels. The state's gas wells delivered 865,000,000 cubic feet to customers in 1936, but the report said the output had been higher during the previous 10 years.

Listing arguments both for and against a production tax, the report said such a levy appeared to be constitutional since the attorof natural resources was permissible provided it did not replace a property tax and that courts of other states had upheld simi-

Kneier said, for example, a tax of five cents a barrel on the esthe state $1.075,000 while a tax of five per cent of the value of oil produced, at $1.25 a barrel, would bring in $1,343,250.

Pointing out that the state geographic survey estimated Illinois' new fields had an oil reserve of 225,000,000 barrels, Kneied said in 1934 there were 34 gas and oil wells in Illinois pleted in 1937 and 13,917 completed the first nine months this

HENRY AND UNDERWOOD With Drake's startling upset of the powerful University of Tulsa last Saturday on the home field of the Des Moines school, two senior football stars from Dixon played in their last home game. The Bulldogs' 27 to 7 victory over the Tulsans was aided greatly by Francis Henry and Bob Underwood, both of this city.

Underwood has been one of the brightest stars in the galaxy of Missouri Valley Conference aces during his three years of varsity competition. The little 155-pound halfback has been a consistent ground-gainer and high-scorer ever since he has worn the number "14" on his uniform jersey.

After the football season last year Bob's teammates selected him as co-captain of the 1938 team along with Phil Manders. He was chosen from a total of 17 seniors who were eligible for the honor.

This year Bob has been hampered by numerous minor injuries, which slowed him down for some of the season's games. At present he is suffering from a torn ligament in the bottom of his foot. However, he was able to see some action in the Tulsa game and made several long runs.

Francis Henry has been getting consistently better ever since his freshman year at Drake. He is known as one of the best passers in the conference, both because of his fine accuracy and because he is the best left-handed tosser in the state of Iowa. His swings over to the other side of the field to fling the ball have confounded many

In the Tulsa game, which he started, Hank was one of the outstanding men on the field. His consistent drive into the secondary of the Hurricanes' ranks netted Drake many yards. He was high scorer for the game, crossing the goal line twice for a total of 12 points. He also completed three out of the five passes he threw.

Both of the Dixon stars are members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and are active in the Honor "D" club, an oragnization of Drake lettermen. On December 2 the two will be included in the players taken to Las Cruces, N. M. for the final game of the year with New Mexico State.

BASKETBALL DOINGS

The Alumni cagers gathered at the high school gym last night for a practice work out in preparation for the game with the high school on Dec. 2 to open the basketball season for Coach Sharpe's boys. Those who worked up steam were Bob Coakley, Don McMillion, Al Boyd, Paul Potts, John Naylor, Jim Swain, Eddie Callahan, Earl Flanagan, Zeke Callahan, George Bishop, Red Flanagan, Wright, Lyle Bellows, Jim Hey, Ken Emmert and Jim Burke.

Plans for an Industrial Basketball league were also discussed last night following the Alumni practice and it was decided that games would be held on Wednesday night this year. Five teams will comprise the league. Jacobus was re-elected vesterday at the P. G. A. convention, defeating Tom Walsh of Chicago who was re-elected secretary.

Delegates from the group's 28 sections also voted to make the P. G. A. senior championship an annual event. It will be held Dec. 5-7 at Augusta, Ga., where it was conducted as an experiment last year and won by Jock Hutchinson. Members 50 years or older are eligible.

Time to Retire

Salt Lake City, Nov. 16—(AP)—Clyde Packer, five-sport coach at tiny Ricks college, Rexburg, Idaho, for the past 22 years, is quitting this spring "to get more exper-ience out of life."

The circle in which a small college coach moves is re-stricted and Packer, a trim, 46-year-old, just-going gray man, is a philosopher as well as a groomer of athletes. "I feel like a fellow ought to get more experience out of life," said Packer, here for the final game of his final football season. "Unless I get an unusual offer to coach at a bigger school, I'm going to take up dry farming ser-iously."

Coaching is "thoroughly enjoyable," Packer said, but at Ricks he's been treading the same mill for 22 years coaching football, basketeball, baseball, track and tennis with gymnasium classes on the side.

New York, Nov. 15-(AP)-The next mackerel you fish out of the barrell isn't any colder and deader than Tony Galento's No. 1 challenger hopes right now. . . . To this corner, the co-called Thomas fight was as unconvincing an exhibition by a pair of experts as a couple of elephants in a shag contest. . . . None other than Jock Sutherland, who can spot the handwriting on the wall at 50 yards, won himself one dozen custom made shirts picking that Cornell-over-Dartmouth upset And the loser was your old pal Bill McClintock, president of that fabulous college of the north Isn't it about time baseball stopped kidding itself and made room for a couple of guys as smart as Frankie Frisch and Jimmy Wilson . . .

Hey, Hymle, how about signs for the boys reading: "Don't go inside—it's just a folly; who's the champ? Why me and Solly." . . . If you like to figure out reasons to pick the upsets, consider that South Carolina has won two and tied one in starts against Notre Dame coached teams this year . . . FOOTBALL'S NUMBER ONE SUCCESS STORY IS ON WEST COAST

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 16-(AP) Others may reap the All-American glory but football's No. 1 success story on the University of California campus this year will be framed around a small chunk of human dynamite named David

Andrew Queen. He's the 19-year-old little fellow with the big pigskin push of the season as a fourth string center and emerged as the varsity snapper-back. Queen weighs 166 pounds sopping wet. He is 5 feet 9 inches tall and in the class rooms looks like a candidate for the table tennis team. On the gridiron he behaves like a wildcat with his tail caught in the cage door.

He has finished every game weighing from seven to eight pounds less than when he started. He is the lightest center in the 50-year football history of the university.

Coach Leonard B. "Stub" Allison ranks Queen as one of the greatest inspirational players he has tutored. Queen's college football career flopped at the start. As a member of the 1937 freshman team he played two games. He quit the sport under doctors orders. They feared a throat infection would develop into something far more

Last spring he appeared for practice with a physical okeh. The first thing he did was break his hand. So he had no practice.

In the last period of the St. Mary's game, opening the season in September, he went into the lineup. California was behind in the score. Queen's entry helped turn the tide of battle. California won. The number 4 substitute on the list of centers became the first string man in a few minutes of

John L. Lewis Brooks No Interference With Committee's Planning

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16-(AP)-The CIO convention quickly completed today adoption of a constitution, establishing the union as the Congress of Industrial Organizations and giving broad powers to the leadership, after John L. Lewis warned against attempts to delay acceptance.

The constitution provided a revenue for the new labor group that, based upon its claimed membership of 3,664,612 could amount to more than $2,000,000 annually to push forward a new organizing drive which leaders told the convention was the "paramount" question here.

The motion to adopt the 10 articles as a whole passed unanimously. On two sections, when they were considered separately, there were a few "no" votes.

These two articles gave the executive board the power to name the date and site for conventions and assessed small industrial unions a per capita tax of 50

ful study and conferences with executive officers, and that the acceptance or rejection of the recommendations was the only question which could be answered, he "It is not right and we do not intend to let a man merely with an idea to come here and destroy the work of this committee." Shaking his bushy head and waving his right hand, Lewis con-"I hope there will be no further misunderstanding of this matter."

Lewis referred to objections raised by Harry Bridges, west coast CIO director; Mervyn Rathbone, of the American Communications Association, and Joseph Curran, of the National Maritime Rathbone moved for recommittment of section two of the constitution which sets forth the objects of the Congress, of Industrial Organizations, including one section providing for an organizaless of race, creed, color, or nationality."

Bridges and Curran supported Rathbone, but Sidney Hillman, acting chairman, ruled the motion out of order. Lewis' brief speech was in explanation of Hillman's ruling. Delegates then rapidly went to work on other articles of the constitution, with few interruptions.
